

SOIL AWAKENING PROGRAM

Improves soil structure and nutrient exchange!

Traditionally, conventional mechanical practices are utilized to increase turf growth and performance by lessening soil compaction that physically restricts root growth and retards nutrient and water availability. The Soil Awakening Program compliments such mechanical practices by lessening soil-based physiological turf stress through the use of unconventional, proprietary technologies. These technologies are designed to improve soil biota activity thereby increasing soil structure development. Improved soil structure often yields improved oxygen and nutrient exchange resulting in vigorous turf growth and resiliency to physiological stress. In addition, the Soil Awakening Program is designed to liberate soil-bound nutrients through sequential applications of a user-and turfgrass-safe acid found in pHAcid.
